Definitions of Business Types

Sole Proprietor -

A method of owning a business in which one person owns the entire business and reports all profits and losses directly on his or her personal income tax return, as contrasted with corporate, joint or partnership ownership.

Corporation -

A corporation is an institution that is granted a charter recognizing it as a separate legal entity having its own privileges, and liabilities distinct from those of its members. There are many different forms of corporations, most of which are used to conduct business.

Limited Liability Company-

A limited liability company (LLC), also known as a company with limited liability (WLL), is a flexible form of business enterprise that blends elements of partnership and corporate structures. It is a legal form of business company that provides limited liability to its owners in the vast majority of United States jurisdictions.

Limited Partnership-

A limited partnership is a form of partnership similar to a general partnership, except that in addition to one or more general partners (GPs), there are one or more limited partners (LPs). It is a partnership in which only one partner is required to be a general partner.

General Partnership-

In the commercial and legal parlance of most countries, a general partnership or simply a partnership refers to an association of persons or an unincorporated company with the following major features:

- Created by agreement, proof of existence and estoppel.
- Formed by two or more persons
- The owners are all personally liable for any legal actions and debts the company may face

It is a partnership in which partners share equally in both responsibility and liability.

Joint Venture-

A joint venture (JV or J-V) is a legal entity formed between two or more parties to undertake an economic activity together. The JV parties agree to create, for a finite time, a new entity and new assets by contributing equity. They then share in the revenues, expenses and assets and "control" of the enterprise.

*Give name of Owner: If applicant is a partnership, give name of each partner. If a corporation, give name of officer and manager responsible for each type of service for which license is sought. [THIS INFORMATION IS MANDATORY]
